FSAs & DCRAs: Simple ways to save

Flexible spending accounts (FSAs) and dependent care reimbursement accounts (DCRAs)

It’s easy to save with an FSA

Simple ways to save
Take advantage of tax savings by participating in a flexible spending account (FSA). You can elect to have a portion of your paycheck contributed pre-tax to pay for qualified medical expenses such as deductibles, co-payments, dental and vision for you and your dependents. A dependent care FSA (DCRA) is offered for similar tax savings on qualified dependent daycare expenses.

Significant savings
The example scenarios below provide estimated savings if an FSA is used for medical expenses totaling $2,700 and a DCRA is used for $5,000 of daycare expenses (assuming a 20% combined federal and state tax rate).

FSA OPTIONS

PEEHIP offers two types of optional FSAs designed to maximize your savings and address your personal needs:

Healthcare FSA
Funds from a healthcare FSA can be used for qualified expenses including medical, dental, vision, deductibles, co-payments and coinsurance. For a full list of qualified expenses allowed by the IRS, see IRS Publication 502.¹ With healthcare FSAs, the entire elected amount is available to you on the first day of the health plan year. You don’t have to wait for payroll deductions before paying expenses with your healthcare FSA.

Healthcare FSA limits
The IRS has set the limit for healthcare FSA contributions to $2,700 per employee (see IRS Publication 969), which is also the limit set by PEEHIP.

Dependent care FSA or DCRA
A DCRA enables you to set aside pre-tax dollars to pay for qualified dependent care expenses. The maximum annual DCRA contribution allowed is $5,000 per household, or $2,500 if you’re married, but filing separate tax returns. The minimum required contribution is $120. Funds can be used to pay for day care, preschool, elderly care or other dependent care. To qualify for a DCRA, the IRS requires that the dependent care is necessary for you and your spouse to work, look for work or attend school full-time, along with other requirements. DCRA funds cannot be used for medical, dental or vision expenses for you or your dependents.

¹ Premiums and prepayment for long term care are not eligible for FSA. It is the member’s responsibility to ensure eligibility requirements as well as if they are eligible for the plan and expenses submitted. One should consult a tax advisor as individual factors and situations vary.
HOW HEALTHCARE FSAs WORK

1 Sign up
During PEEHIP’s open enrollment or within 30 days of hire date, sign up to participate in a healthcare FSA. Then determine the amount you would like to contribute from your pre-tax earnings. Participation in the PEEHIP FSA program does not automatically renew each year. Members must re-enroll every year to continue participation.

2 Contribute
Your employer will arrange to have the determined amount of your pre-tax earnings contributed to your healthcare FSA. The amount withheld from your paycheck is equal each pay period.

3 Use your funds
When you incur a qualified expense, you can either pay with your HealthEquity Visa® Reimbursement Account Card1 or submit the expenses through the HealthEquity online portal for reimbursement. Remember to save all receipts; you’ll need them for reimbursements and to validate your expenses with your employer or administrator.

USE IT, OR LOSE IT
FSAs are generally “use-it-or-lose-it” plans. This means that any funds in the FSA at the end of the plan year generally cannot be carried over to the next year. However, PEEHIP has designated that $500 can carry over. Additionally, if an accountholder leaves an employer or retires, unused funds are forfeited. For more details, see IRS publication 969 or consult a tax advisor.

$500 CARRYOVER
PEEHIP allows up to $500 of unused healthcare FSA funds remaining at the end of a plan year to be carried over to the next plan year.

FSA eligibility
PEEHIP flexible spending accounts are available to all actively employed members of PEEHIP. Retired members are not eligible to participate in the FSA. In addition to your own qualified expenses, you can use your FSA funds to pay for those of your spouse and qualified dependents.¹

Dental expenses
FSA funds don’t have to be used just for medical expenses. You can use them for qualifying dental expenses, including exams, x-rays, cleanings and dental work. You can even use your FSA to pay for orthodontic services.

Vision expenses
You can also use your FSA funds for vision expenses such as exams, prescription eyeglasses, contacts and even corrective eye surgery.

Over-the-counter medicine
The IRS no longer allows FSA funds to be used for over-the-counter (OTC) medicines without a prescription. We encourage you to talk to your doctor and request that he or she write a prescription for OTC medicines or supplies that you frequently use. In that case, you can use your FSA to pay for these items.

Archive your receipts online
HealthEquity’s easy-to-use online portal allows you to upload and store receipts. If your FSA is integrated with a PEEHIP health plan, you can even link your receipts to claims. Your receipts will remain stored in a safe, secure place, available for future reference and documentation. ¹ As of June 26, 2015, the Supreme Court of the US has ruled that same-sex marriage is considered legal throughout the US.
HOW DCRA's WORK

1. Sign up
   During PEEHIP’s open enrollment, or within 30 days of hire date, sign up for a DCRA and determine the amount you would like to contribute for the year. The maximum annual DCRA contribution allowed is $5,000 per household, or $2,500 if you’re married and filing separate tax returns. The minimum required contributions are $120. Unlike a healthcare FSA, your annual DCRA funds aren’t available up front. Funds are only accessible as they are deposited with each payroll deduction. Participation in the DCRA does not automatically renew each year, and members must re-enroll every year.

2. Pay for care
   Pay for your dependent care costs out-of-pocket, but make sure you save the receipts for reimbursement and validation. HealthEquity offers an easy-to-use documentation library that allows you to upload and store receipts within the member portal.

3. Submit for reimbursement
   Submit for reimbursement through the HealthEquity member portal or the DCRA Reimbursement form. Recurring DCRA payments could be scheduled throughout the plan year with proper documentation. For more information, contact our account mentors at 877.288.0719.

USE IT, OR LOSE IT

DCRA funds do not carry over from year-to-year. You must use DCRA dollars within the plan year or they will be forfeited.
