Investment Option Election

I elect the following investment option for future deferrals. You may elect to have 100% in the bond, stock, or short-term investment option election. You may also divide the percentages between the investment options, however, the percentages must add up to 100%.

Invest _____ % of future deferrals in the RSA-1 BOND investment option. The bond portfolio is invested in various debt instruments with maturities greater than one year such as corporate bonds, U.S. agency obligations, mortgage obligations, and commercial paper.

Invest _____ % of future deferrals in the RSA-1 STOCK investment option. The stock portfolio is invested in an S&P 500 Index Fund.

Invest _____ % of future deferrals in the RSA-1 SHORT-TERM investment option. The short-term investment fund (STIF) could include high-quality money market securities, U.S. Treasury bills or notes, and U.S. government agency notes with a maturity of one year or less.

Signature Certification

I understand the following regarding this investment option election:

My election can be made once every 90 days after the effective date of my last election.

I may stop deferrals at any time; however, my election will remain in effect if I later resume deferrals.

My election can apply to the entire amount of future deferrals or a specified percentage of future deferrals on or after the effective date of this election.
