

8/11/2023

RSA has learned that some RSA members have been contacted through their work email and encouraged to create an appointment for a pension and retirement review by what appeared to be an RSA representative but was really an outside party soliciting business. RSA does not contact members regarding any type of retirement review via email or phone unless first requested by the member. It is important to protect your personal information. If you have questions about your retirement, please contact the RSA directly at 877.517.0020.